

Well, what an amazing period of activity - I was lucky to be exhibiting at the Cambridge Original Print exhibition in September. Certainly, the best print event I have been involved with for a very long time - the standard was outstanding, with over 45 printmakers from all over the country coming together to show discerning visitors what printmaking is all about.

The organization was first class with some great connections made and extremely good sales.

The two week Pop up event in Harpenden, covering the Herts Open studio period, was also a great success with good attendance and sales – I am getting the hang of these Pop up Galleries now !

See below for my next Pop Up Gallery and more booked up for 2019.

My Summer workshops were full with a lovely group saying a sad goodbye as it was my last workshop in my Redshanks Studio. We have been here for over 20 years and many students have come and gone but always an exciting very creative period with lots of laughs – but do not despair - take a look at my new studio in the wilds of Buckinghamshire - I am lucky to have the top room over the garage and our carpenter is fitting it out as we speak – I have combined two studios into one with a brand new racking system for all my framed and unframed work – fantastic!. So it will be all systems go when we finally get settled, I have so many new ideas bubbling up - I will keep my mailing list informed of all the new developments - lots happening in 2019

..... Watch out for the publication date of 'All that Glitters can be gold' my next Master Class Booklet.....
