

At last I can call this newsletter SPRING – as the sun is shining and all the daffodils are out – lovely.

News from Princess Helena Exhibition - sold just one at Princess Helena plus the auction piece –but not a lot of people there, but picked up a large commission from an old client who went to see me – so all good .

Put two images with connecting poetry by Steve Thorp into the ' Words' Exhibition at Obsidian gallery – took a picture today, some very interesting exhibits – lots to see, only two weeks left. - details below.

Very pleased to be invited to the beautiful Espacio Gallery in London for their ' Organism' exhibition (have to careful how you say that !)

Anyway looking forward to that, only on for two weeks but if you are in London over the dates why not pop in - details below. Also got accepted and being featured in a new London Magazine called Anthropocene - their remit is artists who express themselves on matters connected to the planet and the new science of the future.

So my exhibition with the contemporary poet about the new ways forward for humanity fitted the bill (so someone is looking at my work out there !). I think it helped that the film of me, with scary face, talking about 'Spirit of the Earth' and saving the planet was put into a film symposium by the film maker !!

Breaking news - Sky Arts wants to borrow our printing press again to offer to the artists on Portrait & Landscape artist of the year 2016 - great publicity for us again ! - I will let you know the days it will be on the TV
