

I do hope you all had a good Christmas and now it is 2018, I am sure if you are an artist, you are trying to sort out 2018 events / exhibitions and if you are a supporter of the arts you are sorting out what to go to. I am doing both, even sorting out exhibitions in 2019/20. – making life speed by quicker than it already does !!

Had a very interesting exhibition in Nov 2017 at the Hertford theatre Gallery – ‘The Elegant Universe’ a collaboration of Art & Poems - I created a film about the exhibition, still trying to sort that out to go on Youtube.

Many of Steve’s Poems reference the wanton use of Earth’s resources – so thank goodness for the fabulous David Attenborough – now at long last, a global focus on plastic and what it is doing to the environment.

If only I had David Attenborough with a turtle covered in plastic at my exhibition, then maybe the visitors would have paid more attention to my Art and the message.

I have been busy in the studio working on my new collections - they take longer than you think but I think they are worth it – just waiting for the mounts and frames to come from the framers.

Introducing ‘Golden Trails’, ‘Copper Trails’ and ‘Silver Trails’.
