

Well Summer is truly here and it is turning out a scorcher- working hard in the studio but breaking it up with sitting in the garden and meeting friends for lunch – trying to mix it up.
 Finished a new range, part of the Shadow of Fire series, looking very interesting, they will be featured in the exhibitions that I am doing after the Summer, but already had a buyer for one so I think they will do very well .
 Created a new large piece with blind embossed areas (very hard to pull off –but I think I have cracked it)
 I will have a photo next newsletter but got the gold leaf to put on next.
GREAT NEWS - First book has just come back from the printers, need to tweak a few bits before the big print run, one picture is not right, need to change it and the weight of the paper is too heavy, but looking beautiful – very pleased the baby is nearly birthed !

Check out the prelisting information and offer - it still applies - website www.majorgeorge.co.uk
