

I would love to call this newsletter Spring 2016 but it is so cold and miserable outside. Back from sunny Grenada having got my Scuba Exams completed but also got an ear infection - not what I was planning. !

Had the first batch of students in my studio – it was lovely to see creative students making beautiful prints – a great laugh was had by all.

Started my tutorial booklet (decided not to do DVD's for this new project as when I saw the new DVD created by Courtyard Arts of me in my studios and at the exhibition talking about 'Spirit of the Earth exhibition, I was horrified to see I looked over a 100 years old. I felt it was too late in my career to leave a range of demonstration DVD's in my back catalogue, even if we cut off my head (which was a solution I seriously considered).

So they will now consist of 4 small books, the first is nearly completed – still got photography to do, editing printing etc – so a long way off but at least I have started.

If you want to see the scary DVD - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sUGrQwk8xyo&feature=youtu.be>

Moving into the 21st Century

I have decided to employ a social media assistant as I find the whole world of social media so confusing, and alien to me - I was just not getting it done.

Chloe, a very capable girl, has taken my pathetic attempts and given them a good shake and has already put load of stuff out about what I am doing – so if this is your thing, take a look .

The traffic is following, the likes are rising so I think it is working .

This now leaves me more time to do the things I am good at - in my studio!
