

This is the first Christmas Greeting I have put together this year and could possibly be your first to receive, but thought I would combine a warm Christmas greeting to my mailing list combined with information about the large exhibition I have just put up in Hertford Theatre Gallery

I am in the process of booking many exhibitions for 2018 with unusual new work in the pipeline, so I will keep you informed.

Hopefully 'All that Glitters can be gold, my Master class booklet 2 will be out in 2018, so lots to look forward to. Hope you have a wonderful restful Christmas and see you in the New Year.

*Sweet blessings,
Kim x*

... Merry Christmas to you all.....

Newsletter Kim Major-George Christmas 2017

My last exhibition for 2017 – lots of new work to see - selling off the wall

The Elegant Universe

..... and the beauty of Mother Earth.....

Solo Ex with connected poetry by Steve Thorp

21st Nov – 24th Dec

Finally got the last exhibition in at Hertford – looking very good.

The new poems created by Steve Thorp are very thought provoking and moving .

I have added this beautiful picture of Gaia, hopefully making the message very clear.

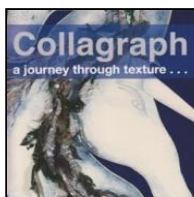

Meet the Artist Day 9th Dec 10:30 - 4:00

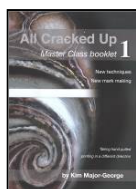

I will be at the venue to explain what this beautiful exhibition is all about why not come in and see, before the madness of Christmas takes over your world.
